

Section A: Enrolment Policy

Policy Objectives:

John Monash Science School is a specialist Science and Mathematics school that has the aims of:

- Improving the educational outcomes for Victorian students in Science and Mathematics
- Investing in the State's future by increasing the number of skilled people working in the Science and mathematics fields

Policy Guidelines:

John Monash Science School is different to the DET's Select-Entry schools and hence our Enrolment Policy reflects this. As a specialist school our enrolment policy is also distinct from that of all other government secondary schools. Our policy guidelines are as follows:

1 Criteria for Entry:

- 1.1 Applicants must be Australian citizens or holders of a visa granting Student Resource Package funding. Visa requirements are stated in section 6 of this policy;
- 1.2 Only applicants who have completed all parts of the formal Entry Assessment negotiated by the school can be offered a place at JMSS. The assessments are used to gauge the applicant's passion and aptitude for science, capacity for logical and numerical reasoning, and mathematical ability;
- 1.3 The results from the entry assessments are used to rank applicants;
- 1.4 Available places at JMSS in any year level will be allocated to students whose performance in the Entry Assessment clearly demonstrates they have an appropriate aptitude for science and the potential to make the most of the opportunity;
- 1.5 The school reserves the right to interview any applicants for whom the data provide insufficient evidence to offer a place outright;
- 1.6 The school will reserve up to 10% of the available places for indigenous students and students from remote or rural locations, judged on merit from eligible applicants;
- 1.7 To enrol at John Monash Science School in Year 11, students must have completed Year 10 in a current registered school, and turn 16 years of age during the first year of enrolment. If a student has been accelerated in their current school and their performance on the Entry Assessment is commensurate with 1.4 above, they may be admitted provided that they will turn 15 years of age by April 30th during their first year at John Monash Science School;
- 1.8 There is no cap on enrolments from any one school to JMSS at the Year 11 level;

- 1.9 Should any applicants who are offered a place decline for any reason, the school will continue to offer places to students in order of merit based on the data from entry assessments;
- 1.10 The school will cease enrolling students once all available places are filled. If the number of available places is not able to be filled from the cohort presenting for entry, the remaining number of places may be filled from eligible applicants in the following year.
